Purpose of the plan
This plan examines potential risks and issues that could cause disruption to the exam process at Selly Park Girls’ School. By outlining actions/procedures to be involved in case of disruption it is intended to mitigate the impact these disruptions have on our exam process.
Alongside internal processes, this is informed by scenarios contained in the Joint contingency plan in the event of widespread disruption to the examination system in England, Wales and Northern Ireland.
This plan complies with JCQ general regulations (section 5 (e)) in that:
The centre agrees to ‘have in place a written examination contingency plan/examinations policy which covers all aspects of examination administration. This will allow members of the senior leadership team to have a robust contingency plan in place, minimizing risk to examination administration, should the examinations officer be absent at a crucial stage of the examination cycle.’

Further guidance to inform and implement contingency planning

Ofqual

Selly Park Girls’ School should consider the following steps, if examinations or other assessments are seriously disrupted

1. Contingency planning

Selly Park Girls’ School prepares for a possible disruption to examinations and other assessments as part of our emergency planning and makes sure that all staff are aware of these plans.

2. Disruption to assessments or examinations
In the absence of any instructions from the relevant awarding organisation, the school should assume that any examination or timetabled assessment will/should take place if it is possible to do so. In this case this may mean having to locate alternative premises.

If the examination or assessment cannot take place, or if a pupil misses an examination or loses their assessment due to an emergency or other event outside the control of the school, we will discuss an alternative arrangement with our awarding organisation.

3. The school should consider the following steps

3.1 Examination planning
- Review our contingency plan well in advance of each examination series.
- Ensure that copies of question papers are received and stored under secure conditions.

3.2 In the event of disruption
- Contact the relevant awarding organisation and follow their instructions.
- Take advice or follow instructions from relevant local or national agencies in deciding whether the school is able to open.
- Identify whether the examination can be sat at an alternative venue, in agreement with the relevant awarding organisation.
- Where accommodation is limited, prioritise pupils whose progression will be severely delayed if they do not take their examinations when planned.
- Communicate with parents, carers and pupils regarding any changes to the examination timetable.
- Advise pupils, where appropriate, to sit examinations in the next available series.

3.3 After the examination
- Consider whether pupils may be eligible for special consideration.
- Ensure that scripts are stored under secure conditions.
- Return scripts are stored under secure conditions.
- Return scripts to awarding organisations in line with their instructions.
  Never make alternative arrangements for the transportation of completed examinations scripts, unless told to do so by the awarding organisation.

4. The awarding organisation should take the following steps

4.1 Examination planning
• Establish, maintain and at all times comply with an up to date written contingency plan.
• Ensure that the arrangements that are in place with the schools enable them to deliver and award qualifications in accordance with its conditions recognition.

4.2 In the event of disruption
• Take all reasonable steps to mitigate any negative effect, in relation to its qualifications, arising from any disruption.
• Provide effective guidance to any of its centres responsible for delivering qualifications on its behalf.
• Ensure that where an assessment is required to be completed under specified conditions, pupils complete the assessment under those conditions (other than where any reasonable adjustments or special considerations require alternative conditions).
• Promptly notify the relevant regulators about any event which could have a negative effect on pupils, standards or public conference.
• Coordinate its communications with the relevant regulators where the disruption has an impact on multiple centres or a wide range of learners.

4.3 After the examination
Consider any requests for special consideration for affected pupils. Such as: those who may have lost their internally assessed work or whose performance in assessments or examinations could have been affected by the disruption.

5. If any pupils miss an examination or are disadvantaged by the disruption
If some of the pupils have been adversely affected by the disruption, you should ask the awarding organisation about applying for special consideration.
Decisions about special consideration, when it is or is not appropriate, is for each awarding organisation to make. Their decisions might be different for different qualifications and for different subjects.

• JCQ’s guidance on special consideration
• FAB’s guidance on special consideration

6. Wider communications
The regulators, Ofqual in England, Qualifications Wales in Wales and CCEA in Northern Ireland, will share timely and accurate information, as required, with awarding organisations, government departments and other stakeholders. The Department for Education in England, the Department of Education in Northern Ireland and the Welsh Government will inform the relevant government ministers as soon as it becomes apparent that there will be significant local or national disruption; and ensure that they are kept updated until the matter is resolved.

Awarding organisations will alert the Universities and Colleges Admissions Service (UCAS) and the Central Applications Office (CAO) about any impact of the disruption on their deadlines and liaise regarding pupils’ progression to further and higher education.

Awarding organisations will alert relevant professional bodies or employer groups if the impact of disruption particularly affects them.

7. Widespread national disruption

In the event of widespread sustained national disruption, the government departments will communicate with regulators, awarding organisations and centres prior to a public announcement. Regulators will provide advice to government departments on implications for examination timetables.

JCQ

15.1 The qualification regulators, JCQ and government departments responsible for education have prepared and agreed information for schools in the event of examinations being seriously disrupted. This jointly agreed information will ensure consistency of response in the event of major disruption to the examinations systems affecting significant numbers of candidates.

Further information may be found at:

15.2 In addition, awarding bodies have their own well-established contingency plans in place to respond to disruptions. It is important that exams officers who are facing disruption liaise directly with the relevant awarding body/bodies.

15.3 Centres should prepare plans for any disruption to examinations as part of their general emergency planning. It is important to ensure that relevant centre staff are familiar with the plan. Consideration should be given as to how these arrangements will be communicated to candidates, parents and staff should disruption to examinations occur.

15.4 In the event that the head of centre decides the centre cannot be opened for scheduled examinations, the relevant awarding body must be informed as soon as possible. Awarding bodies will be able to offer advice regarding the alternative arrangements for conducting examinations that may be available and the options for candidates who have not been able to take scheduled examinations.

15.5 The awarding bodies have designated Wednesday 24 June 2020 as a ‘contingency day’ for examinations. This is consistent with the qualification regulators’ document Exam system contingency plan: England, Wales and Northern Ireland - https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/examsystem-contingency-plan-england-wales-and-northern-ireland

The designation of a ‘contingency day’ within the common examination timetable is in the event of national or local disruption to examinations. It is part of the awarding bodies’ standard contingency planning for examinations.

Centres must therefore remind candidates that they must remain available until Wednesday 24 June 2020 should an awarding body need to invoke its contingency plan.
