There are no hard and strict rules about which wine should be selected to accompany a particular cheese as the best selections are almost always based on individual tastes.

However, we can offer you the following principles:

1. White wines go better with more cheeses than red wine
2. A wine with good acidity may be complemented by very salted cheeses
3. Dry, fresh red wines are ideally suited to soft cheeses, especially goat
4. Dry champagnes are a brilliant combination with bloomy white rinds
5. A smooth fatty cheese goes well with a similarly smooth slightly oily wine
