The image features a stylized brain graphic composed of a network of nodes and lines. The nodes are colored in yellow, orange, green, and cyan, and are connected by thin white lines. The brain is set against a dark purple background with concentric blue circles. Dashboard of Rev.com

The image shows the Rev.com dashboard interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the 'Dash' logo and menu items: Project, Edit, Video, Controls, and Help. On the right side of the top bar, there is a 'UNCLAIM (without penalty) 00:12' indicator and a 'DUE IN 0' indicator.

Below the navigation bar, there is a toolbar with icons for undo, redo, search, and save. A red 'SAVE' button is highlighted, with a status message 'Last saved a few seconds ago' next to it. A 'Type' dropdown menu is also visible on the right.

The main workspace is divided into two panels. The left panel is a 'Search / Replace' tool. It has a text input field for 'text to search for...', a 'case sensitive' checkbox, and a red 'search' button. Below this is a 'Replace:' section with a text input field for 'replace text with...' and two buttons: 'replace' and 'replace all'.

The right panel is a video player. It displays a transcript of the video content. The transcript shows a line of text: '- Last Mother's Day, Erica didn't get me a Mother's Day Card.' This line is highlighted in pink, and a yellow circle is drawn around the word 'me'. The transcript also shows a timestamp of '00:16.57' for this line. Above the video player, there is a progress bar with a white playhead at '00:07' and a total duration of '01:26'. Below the video player, there are standard video control buttons: play/pause, stop, previous, next, and a volume icon.

The video player shows a scene with two women sitting on a couch. One woman is wearing a blue and white patterned sweater, and the other is wearing a white t-shirt. A baby is sitting in a stroller in front of them. The video player has a red bounding box around the scene.

MANDATORY RULES OF YOUTUBE

COPYRIGHT AND MANAGEMENT

WHAT IS
copyright

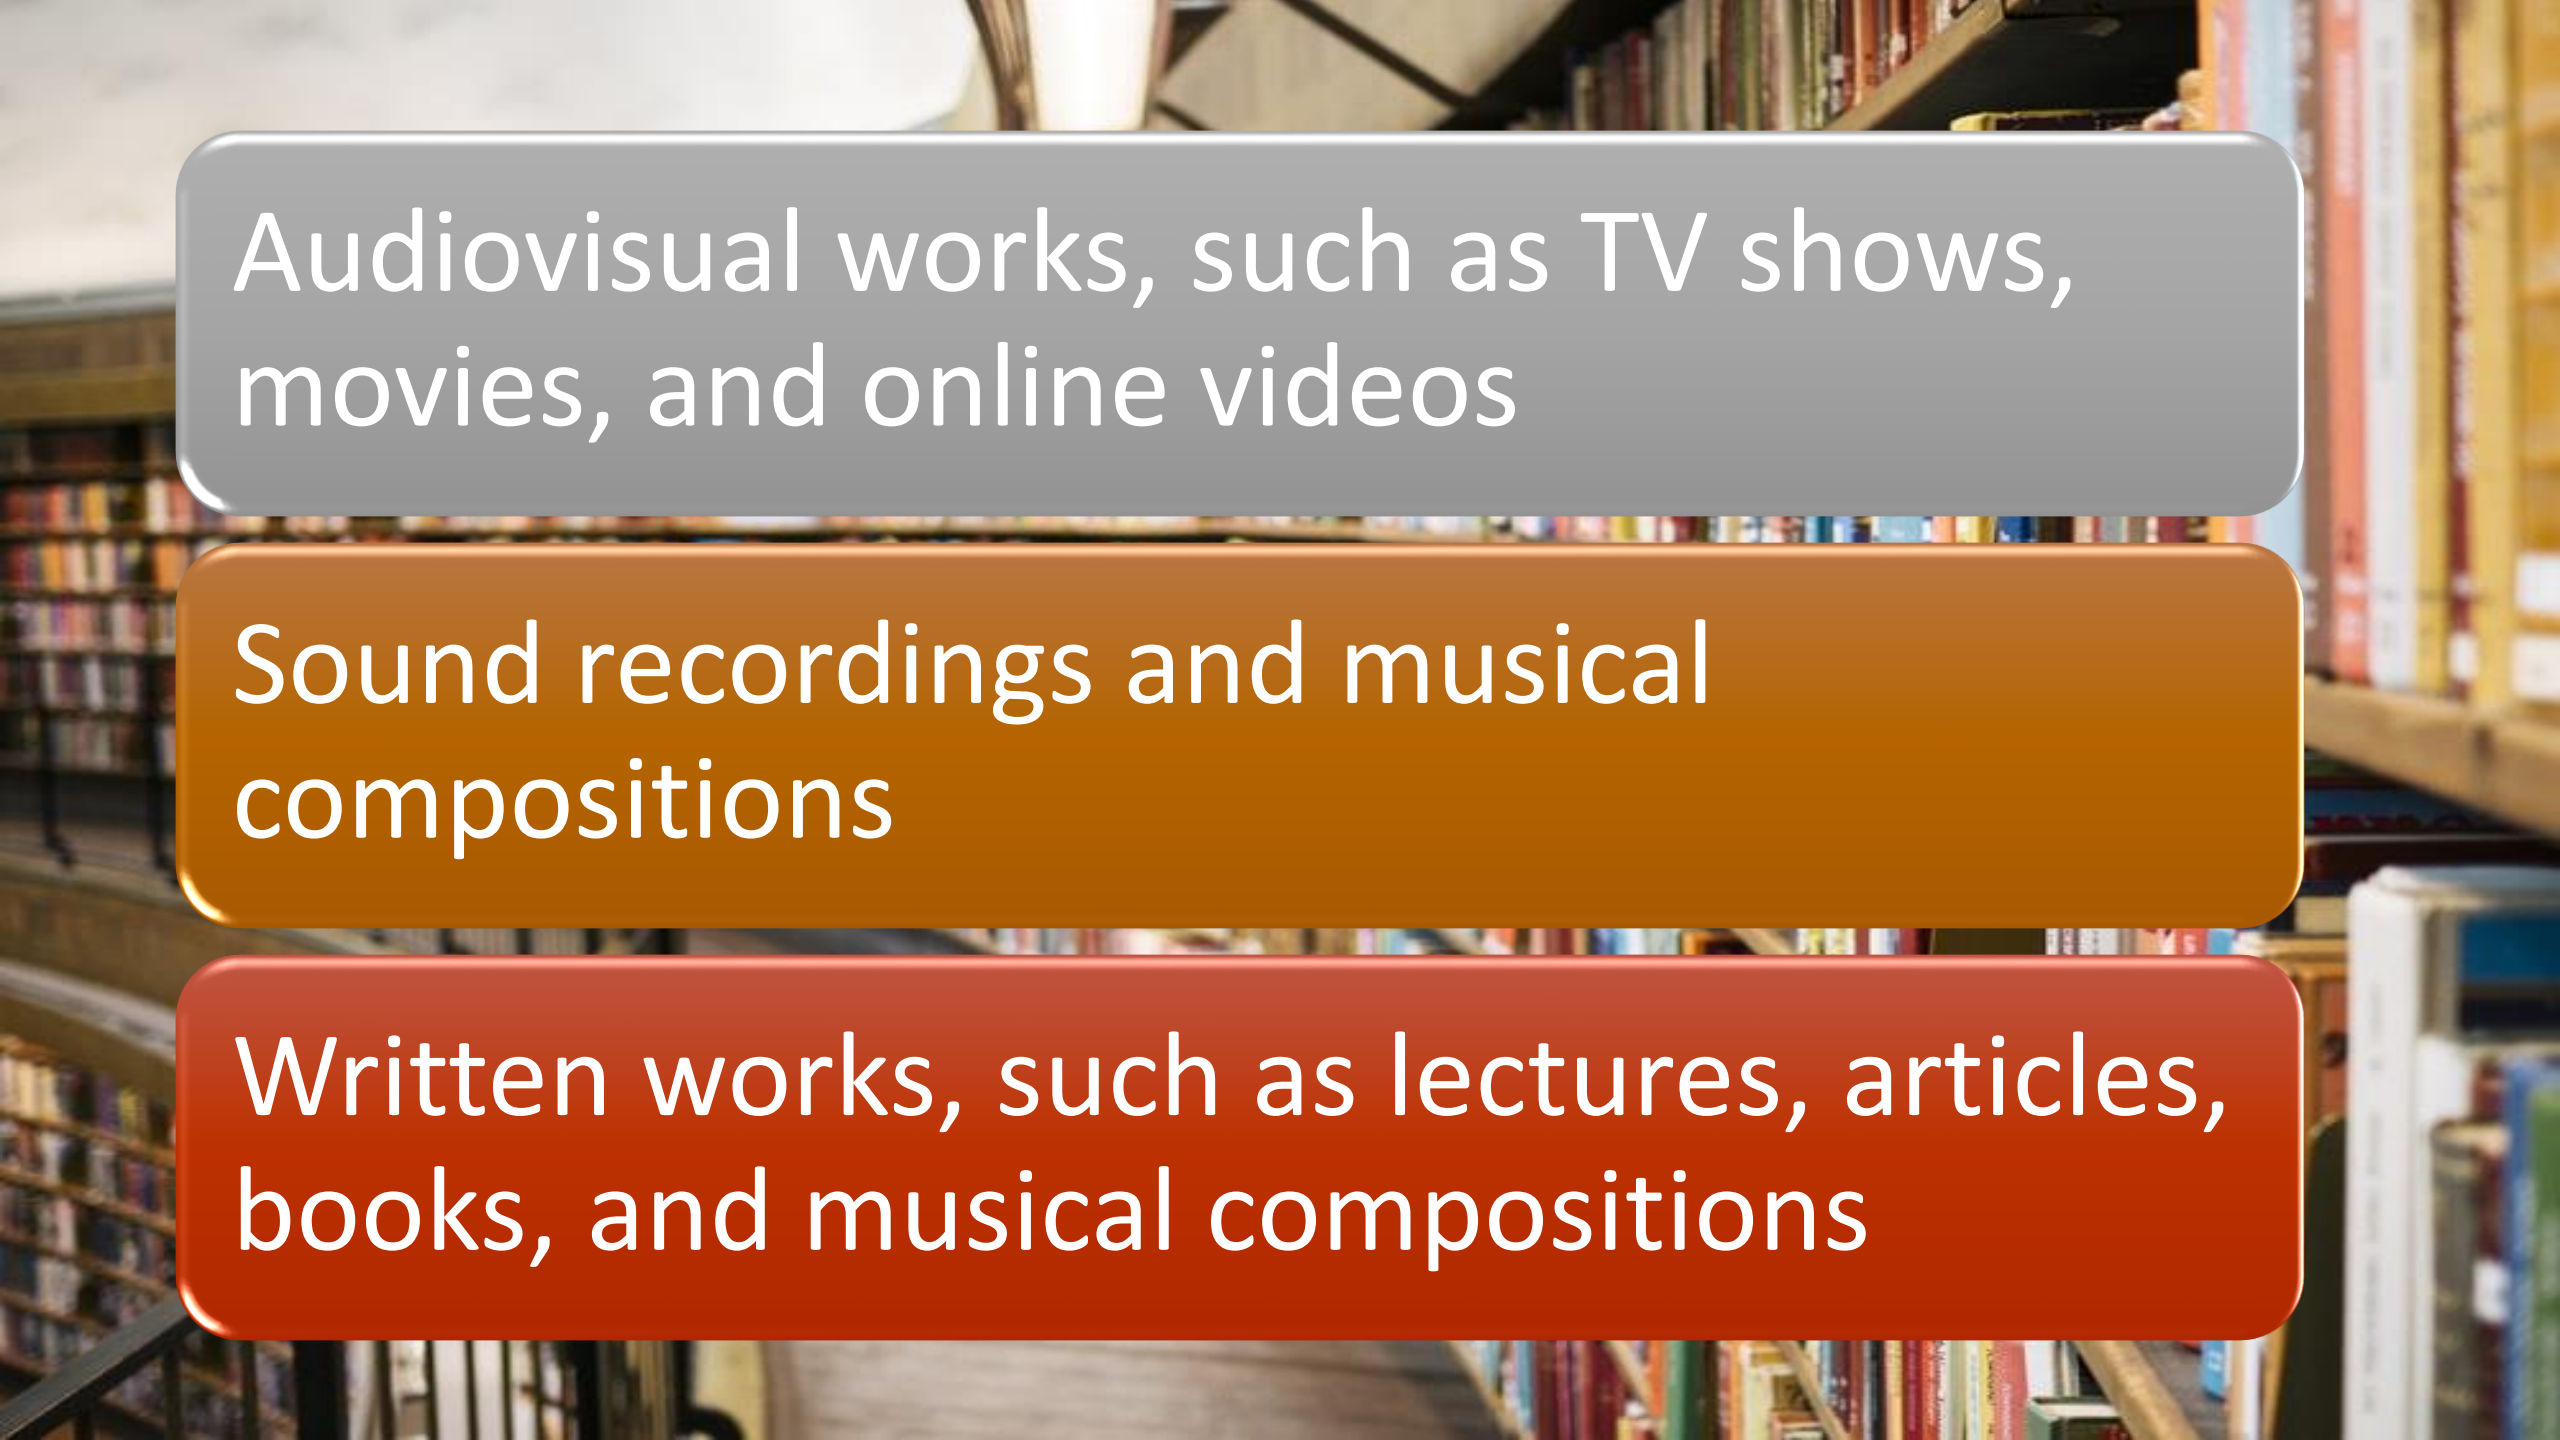

In many countries, when a person creates an original work that is fixed in a physical medium, they automatically own copyright to the work. As the copyright owner, they have the exclusive right to use the work. Most of the time, only the copyright owner can say whether someone else has permissions to use the work.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS ABOUT
COPYRIGHT

WHICH TYPES OF WORK ARE SUBJECT TO COPYRIGHT?

Audiovisual works, such as TV shows, movies, and online videos

Sound recordings and musical compositions

Written works, such as lectures, articles, books, and musical compositions

IDEAS, FACTS, AND PROCESSES ARE NOT SUBJECT TO COPYRIGHT.

According to copyright law, in order to be eligible for copyright protection, a work must be creative and it must be fixed in a tangible medium. Names and titles are not, by themselves, subject to copyright.

CAN YOUTUBE DETERMINE COPYRIGHT OWNERSHIP?

No. YouTube isn't able to mediate rights ownership disputes. When we receive a complete and valid takedown notice, we remove the content as the law requires. When we receive a valid counter notification, we forward it to the person who requested the removal. After this, it's up to the parties involved to resolve the issue in court.

IS COPYRIGHT THE SAME AS TRADEMARK?

Copyright is just one form of intellectual property. It's not the same as trademark, which protects brand names, mottos, logos, and other source identifiers from being used by others for certain purposes. It is also different from patent law, which protects inventions.

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN COPYRIGHT AND PRIVACY?

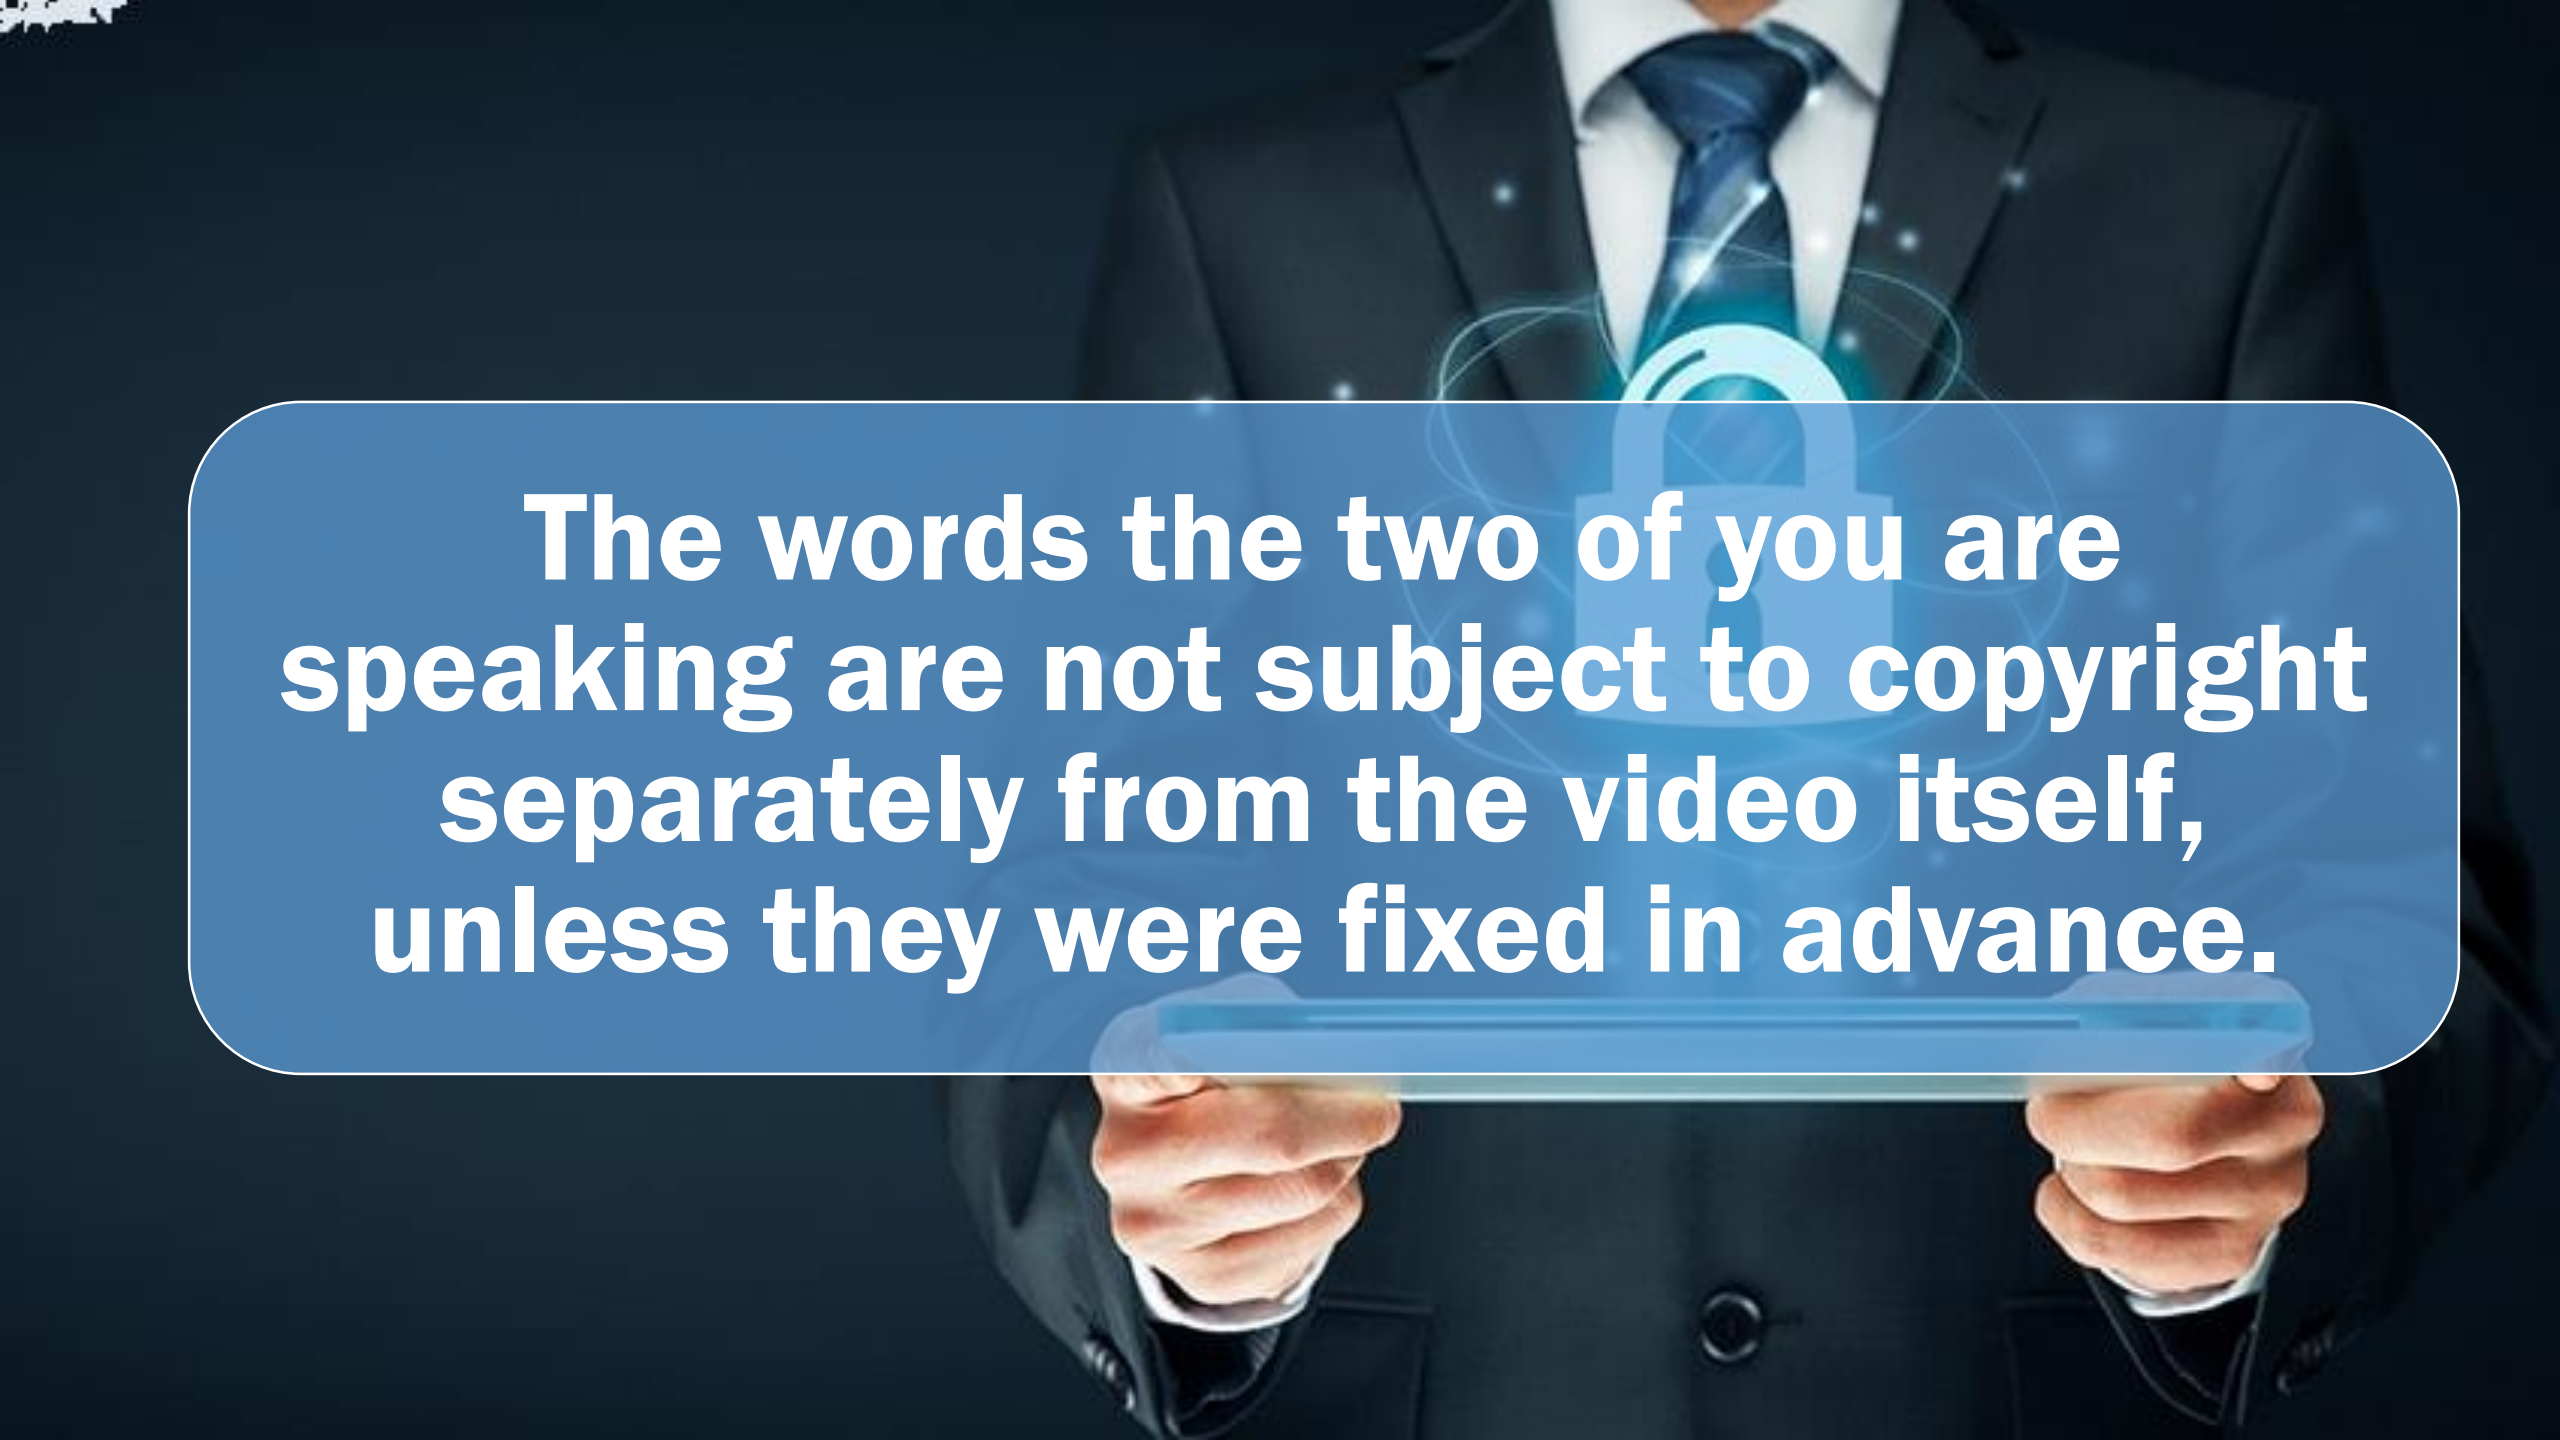

A person in a dark suit and blue tie is holding a tablet. A large, semi-transparent blue padlock icon is overlaid on the tablet screen. The background is dark with some light blue glowing effects.

Just because you appear in a video, image, or audio recording does not mean you own the copyright to it.

A person in a dark suit and blue tie is holding a smartphone. A large, semi-transparent blue padlock icon is overlaid on the image, centered behind the text. The background is dark with some light blue circular patterns.

For example, if your friend filmed a conversation between the two of you, she would own the copyright to that video recording

A person in a dark suit and blue tie is holding a tablet. A large blue padlock icon is overlaid on the tablet screen. The text is centered on the tablet screen.

The words the two of you are speaking are not subject to copyright separately from the video itself, unless they were fixed in advance.

A person in a dark suit and blue tie is holding a tablet. A large blue padlock icon is overlaid on the image, symbolizing security or privacy. The background is dark with some light effects.

If your friend, or someone else, uploaded a video, image, or recording of you without your permission and you feel it violates your privacy or safety, you may wish to file a privacy complaint.

How do I get permission to use someone else's content
in my video?

First, reach out to the copyright owners or rightsholders directly and negotiate the appropriate licenses for your use.

Note: If you perform a cover song, make sure you have permission from the copyright owners (i.e., songwriter or music publisher). You may need extra licenses to reproduce the original sound recording, include the song in a video, or display the lyrics.

You can also use YouTube's library of free music and sound effects, which can be used in videos according to the terms specified.

Then, check the license. Seek legal advice for any licensing agreement to be certain which rights are granted and which rights the owner reserves.

Creative Commons licenses give a standard way for content creators to grant someone else permission to use their work.

CONTENT

Creative Commons licenses can only be used on 100% original content.*

You Tube Content ID

If there's a Content ID claim on your video, you cannot mark your video with the Creative Commons license.

“Do Creative Commons licenses affect exceptions and limitations to copyright, such as fair dealing and fair use?”

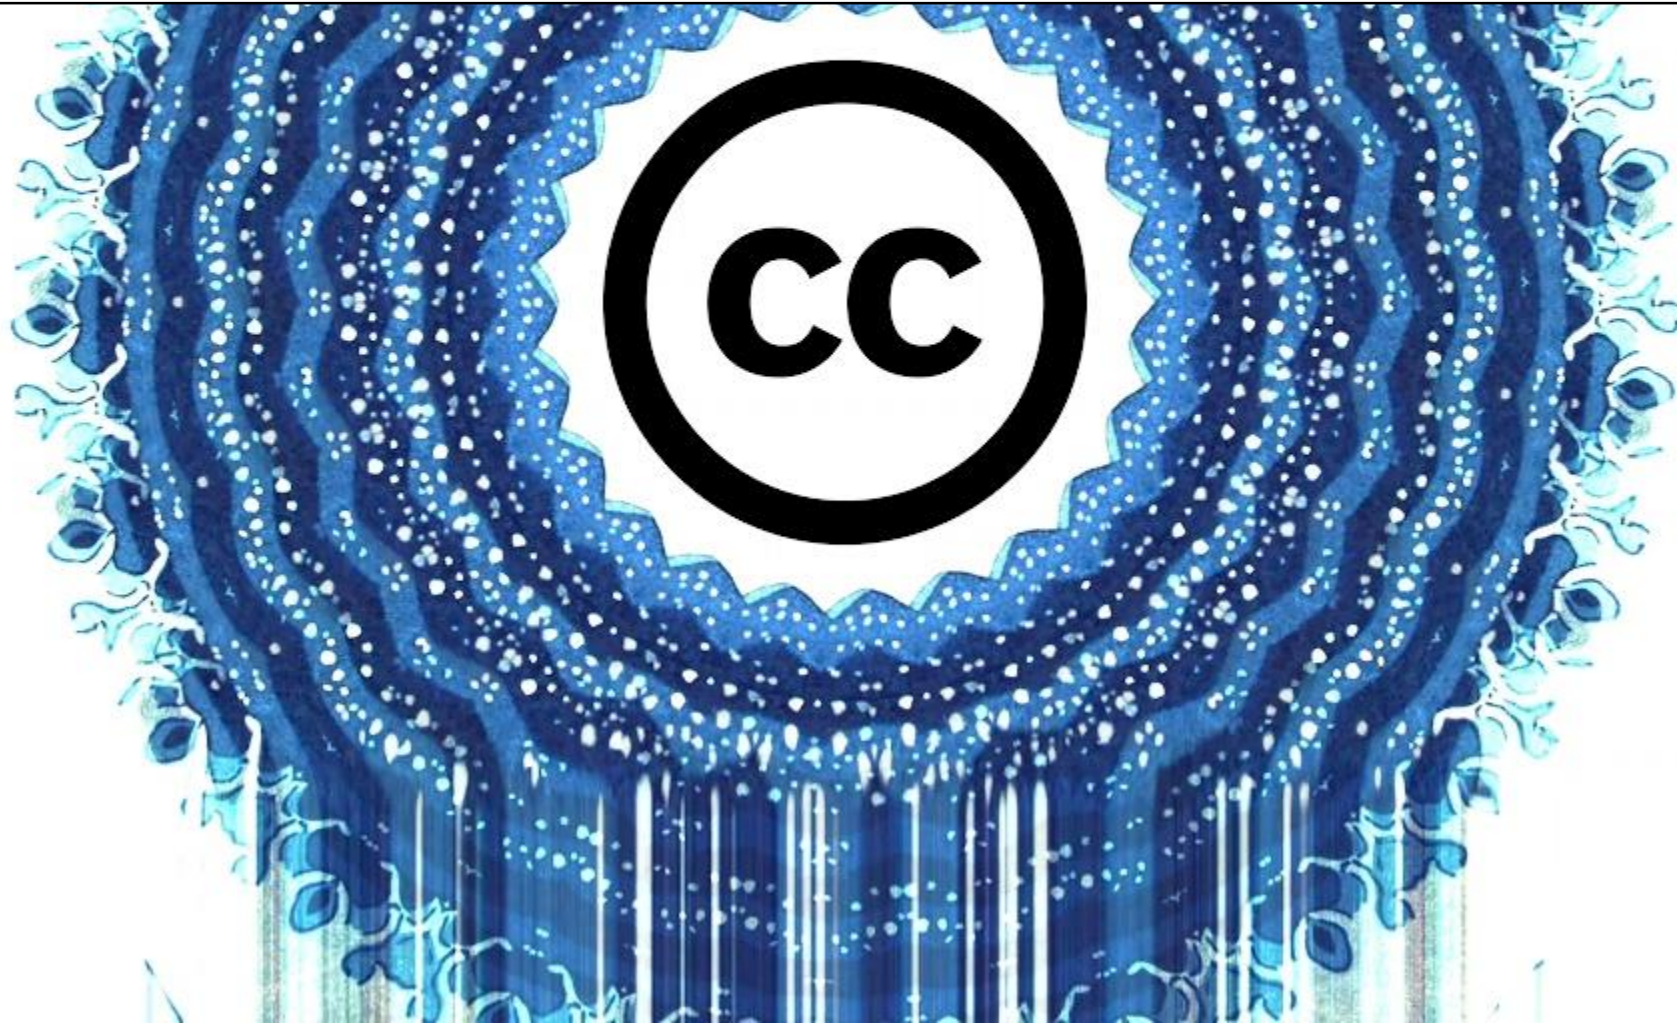

Mobile devices

Computer

No. By design, CC licenses do not reduce, limit, or restrict any rights under exceptions and limitations to copyright, such as fair use or fair dealing.

“Do I need to register with Creative Commons before I obtain a license?”

No. CC offers its licenses, code, and tools to the public free of charge, without obligation.

Can I still make money from a work I make available under a Creative Commons license?

Yes. The goal is to encourage creators and rights holders to experiment with new ways to promote and market their work.

Fair

Use

on YOUTUBE

Fair use is a legal doctrine that says you can reuse copyright-protected material under certain circumstances without getting permission from the copyright owner.

FAQs

Frequently Asked Questions

FAQ on fair use

HOW DOES
FAIR USE
WORK?

Different countries/regions have different rules about when it's OK to use material without the copyright owner's permission. Some other countries have a similar idea called fair dealing that may work differently.

WHAT CONSTITUTES FAIR USE?

1. The purpose and character of the use, including whether such use is of commercial nature or is for nonprofit educational purposes

2. The nature of the copyright work

3. The amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole

4. The effect of the use upon the potential market for, or value of, the copyrighted work

WHEN DOES FAIR USE APPLY?

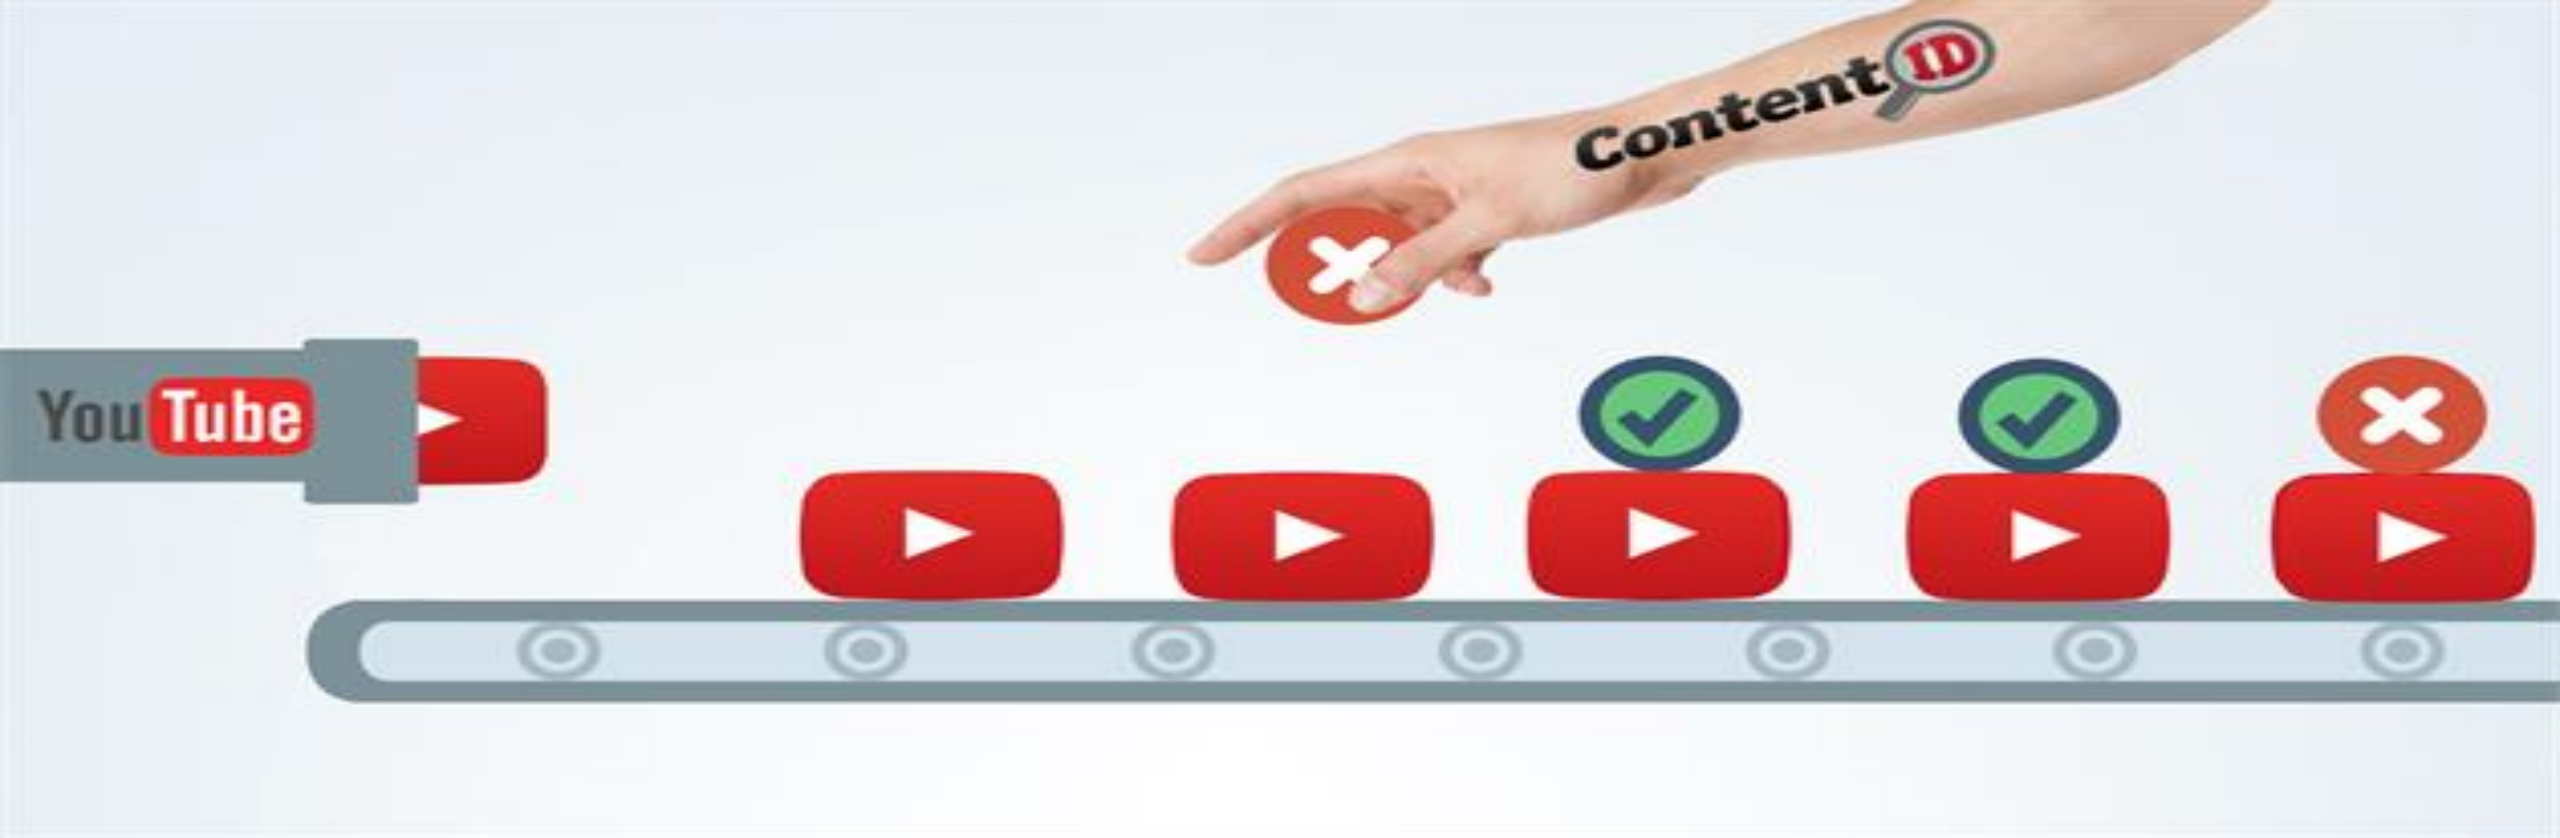

Uses that try to substitute the original work instead of commenting on or criticizing it are unlikely to be considered fair uses.

HOW DOES
CONTENT ID
WORK WITH FAIR USE?

If you upload a video containing copyrighted content without the copyright owner's permission, you could end up with a Content ID claim. The claim will keep you from monetizing the video, even if you only use a few seconds, such as short uses of popular songs.

MUSIC IN THIS VIDEOS

The description of a video that contains music may include information about the song(s) in the video.

YouTube adds this information automatically to some videos when the video has been identified and “claimed” by music rightsholders via YouTube’s rights management tools
