Class Pricing / Tuition

We operate all classes on a month-to-month enrollment. This means that once you have picked the day and time that your child will be attending, we hold his/her spot in that class until we hear from you otherwise. The cost of class will depend on how many weeks are in each month. Our system will automatically pro-rate your tuition based on the number of classes each month. The tuition listed below is based on your child coming to class 1x per week and does not take into account any discounts listed above.
