

Diamond Stylz/ Activist/ Podcast Journalist

12th Annual GSA Leadership Summit – Dickinson College

March 28-29, 2019

Bio:

Diamond Stylz is one of the premier voices of the millennial black trans community. She is the host of Martha's Plate, a podcast that centers trans-inclusive pro-black feminism and pop culture. She started her activism at 17 when she won a First Amendment right cases against Indianapolis Public School system , a victory that allow her to go to the proms in a gender affirming gown instead of a tuxedo. At 20 she was the first openly trans woman to attend the legendary HBCU Jackson State University. nowadays she is continuing her work a board member of the Black Trans Advocacy Conference and the spiritually centered TransFaith Inc.

Workshop:

A conversation that affirms, empowers and engages marginalized communities and allies through education and collaboration. Cultivating diverse expressions, meaningful allyship, and effective leadership.

Keynote:

Being Brave Together. “Courage is the most important of all the virtues because without courage, you can't practice any other virtue consistently.” -Maya Angelou