

Figuring Out Your Purpose

Hey Single Chick,

I am Tricia-Anne Y. Morris, Author, Purpose Coach, Success Coach, Transformational Speaker, Business Coach and Consultant. I created this resource because I want to help you to figure out your purpose but figuring out your purpose requires that you come up with your Purpose Statement.

Interestingly, every successful business has a vision and mission statement that they live by for decision making. This principle is based on Habakkuk 2:2 which says "write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it." Funny thing though is that few individuals have a vision or, more appropriately, a purpose statement for their lives. This worksheet will help you to craft that purpose statement.

What is a Purpose Statement?

- It is a roadmap for your life
- It clarifies your individual purpose
- It sets a defined direction for your future
- It indicates what you ought to become and how you ought to serve others, based on divine perspective
- It is the guidepost for your decision making
- It is framed by how God sees you, what He has deposited in you, and the steps He wants you to take

If you want to figure out what God created you to do then complete the exercises below. They're easy and any questions just reach out. You can email me at triciaanne@thinkcreatesoar.com or call at 1(876) 451-0879. Also, follow me on IG @smartfabulousandsingle. I have great tips and practical solutions for living successfully single. I'll also be launching my podcast soon.

Much Love,

4. Your turn: Choose Your WHY.

Here's a sample of WHY phrases to choose from. Circle 1 or come up with your own.

So they accomplish their purpose	So they have a place to sleep
So they grow spiritually	So they achieve emotional healing
So they come to know God	So they make better relationship choices
So they become employable	So their marriages will be strengthened
So they have one hot meal each week	So they may become wholesome young adults

5. Your turn: Put it all together

Pull your answers into a single sentence. Think of it like a formula: WHAT + WHO + HOW + WHY. You can move words around to perfect it after. Use the examples at the top of the page as a guide.
